DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in-

(1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effect under this subsection of a national application published under section 122(b) only if the international application designating the United States was published under Article 21(2)(a) of such treaty in the English language; or
(2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that a patent shall not be deemed filed in the United States for the purposes of this subsection based on the filing of an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a).

Claims 1-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by U.S.

Patent No. 6,306,563 to Xu et al. (Xu). Xu discloses a process of forming a waveguide comprising the steps of applying a lower cladding polymerizable composition to a substrate; at least partially curing the lower cladding polymerizable material; applying a core polymerizable composition to the lower cladding; imagewise exposing the core polymerizable composition through a photomask to at least partially cure the exposed image portion; developing to remove the nonimage areas of the core polymerizable composition; applying an upper cladding polymerizable composition to the core; and at least partially curing the upper cladding composition, wherein after application of the upper cladding polymerizable composition any unpolymerized or non fully polymerized portions of the upper cladding, lower cladding or core layer is subjected to a hard curing by overall exposure. See column 7, line 56 to column 10, line 21. Additionally, Xu discloses removing oxygen from the polymerizable compositions by purging with nitrogen or evacuating. See column 29, lines 10-21 and column 32, line 59 to column 33, line 38. Therefore, this invention is not novel.

2. Claims 29-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 5,106,211 to Chiang et al. (Chiang). Chiang discloses a polymeric channel waveguide constructed by a method comprising the steps of forming a first thin film cladding on a supporting substrate, forming an optical waveguiding layer (i.e. core layer) on the cladding, forming a second thin film cladding on the waveguide layer, and forming a channel waveguiding ridge by ablating longitudinal sections of the cladding thin films and waveguiding layer with a laser. Accordingly, the pattern of the first cladding corresponds to the pattern of the waveguiding core. See column 3, lines 17-33 and Figure 1C. Therefore, this invention is not novel.
